d. ATAHS Course (E-2D-00XX) (4 days). Students shall report to building 618, FASOTRAGRUPAC Survival Department, NLT 0730 on the day class convenes.

(1) The purpose of the ATAHs course is to provide training in the peacetime application of the Code of Conduct and terrorism survival skills to selected military personnel. Such personnel include Foreign Area Officers, Special Operations Forces and embassy staff.

(2) The ATAHs course is classified secret

(3) Request ATAHs training course quotas via message or letter to Commanding Officer, FASOTRAGRUPAC (N2), Box 357068, San Diego, CA 92135-7068. Security clearance information must be reflected on the individual's orders.

e. SERE Refresher Course (E-2D-0036) (Length as required)

(1) The SERE refresher course is offered to assist squadron/wing survival officers to meet the COMNAVAIRPAC requirements of continuing survival training contained in reference (b).

(2) This course is presented as a series of lectures and videotapes by a Mobile Training Team of qualified SERE instructors. The course of instruction covers pertinent SERE topics and provides continued exposure to organized Code of Conduct/SERE training as required by reference (b), OPNAVINST 1000.24 and OPNAVINST C3305.1A.

(3) Available course topics include: Geneva Convention, Code of Conduct, POW Communication/Organization, Resistance to Enemy Interrogation, Resistance to Propaganda/Exploitation, Evasion, Conventional/Unconventional Recovery, DOD Policy on Peacetime Captivity and Vietnam POW Commentary. Specific AOR SERE Briefs will be provided upon request.

(4) The classification of the SERE refresher course is confidential. Specific AOR briefs up to the Secret level can be provided upon request.

(5) Request SERE refresher course training via message, letter or E-Mail to Commanding Officer, FASOTRAGRUPAC (N2), Box 357068, San Diego, CA 92135-7068 (survival@faso.navy.mil).

3. Prerequisites. Activities requesting quotas in any course shall ensure that the student/trainee meets the requirements established in references (a) through (d) and as outlined above. If a waiver is necessary, it must be approved prior to the class convening.

4. Reporting. All students shall report in person, in the uniform of the day prescribed for the San Diego area, with individual orders. Students reporting prior to the class convening date shall check in at building 646, FASOTRAGRUPAC North Island. A student on a standby status for SERE training (having orders, appropriate clearance, proper certification of medical examination and medical record) will report to building 618 by 0630 the day class convenes. Standby students may be enrolled, after all confirmed quota students have checked in, if any seats are available. Due to the nature of the training, students reporting late will not be enrolled.

5. SERE, DEST and ATAHs Quota Requests, Confirmation and Cancellation

a. SERE quota requests. FASOTRAGRUPAC assigns quotas for the basic SERE course by community (Aviation, USMC, Specwar, etc.) per enclosure (2). It is the responsibility of the Navy unit training officers to submit training requests to FASOTRAGRUPAC Quota Control at (619) 545-6336/7 or DSN 735-6336/7 between the hours of 0745-1600. Quotas can also be obtained via E-Mail to FASOTRAGRUPAC Quota Control at quotacontrol@faso.navy.mil. All USMC billets are controlled by COMMARFORPAC (DSN 477-8772). Any quotas not assigned thirty days prior to class convening will be open to all commands.

b. DEST and ATAHs quota requests. Submit training requests to Quota Control via phone or E-Mail. Classes are limited to twenty and all seats are on a first come first served basis.

c. FASOTRAGRUPAC quota control will send a quota confirmation message 30 days prior to the class convening date.

d. Quota cancellation. In order to cancel a confirmed quota, it should be done NLT three working days prior to class convening date. Contact FASOTRAGRUPAC quota control at (Com) (619) 545-6336 or (DSN) 735-6336 or E-Mail quotacontrol@faso.navy.mil. Non-utilization of the confirmed quotas (no-shows) will generate a No-Show report to the scheduling command and COMNAVAIRPAC.

6. NAS North Island BOQ/BEQ Reservations. Attendees are responsible for making their own reservations. Billeting at NAS North Island is limited, and advance reservations are required. In accordance with NAVADMIN 077/93 CNO Washington, D.C., billeting available within a thirty minute drive of the training facility will be utilized. Please ensure personnel are funded for commercial transportation to and from billeting to the training facility. The twelve-day SERE course consists of an initial North Island phase, a field phase at Warner Springs, and a one day debrief phase at North Island. Attendees are not entitled to per diem while in a field status in accordance with reference (e). The attendee has three options with regards to the BOQ/BEQ. First, the attendee may reserve the room for the entire period of SERE training with the knowledge that they will not be reimbursed for the six day field portion of training. Secondly, a group of attendees may reserve one room for the field phase of training to serve as group storage and split the cost at their own expense. Thirdly, the attendee can make reservations covering the initial Monday through Thursday academic phase, and a second reservation for the following Thursday through Friday morning. Final debrief and check out from FASOTRAGRUPAC will be on Friday no earlier than 1600. Member travel should not be scheduled prior to 1800 on Friday.
